INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Board of Directors
James A. Rhodes State College Foundation
Allen County, Ohio

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of James A. Rhodes State College Foundation (a nonprofit organization), a component unit of James A. Rhodes State College, as of June 30, 2006 and 2005, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of James A. Rhodes State College Foundation as of June 30, 2006 and 2005, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued a report dated December 6, 2006 on our consideration of James A. Rhodes State College Foundation's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements and other matters. While we did not opine on the internal control over financial reporting, or on compliance, that report describes the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. You should read it in conjunction with this report in considering the results of our audit.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2006 and 2005

Note A - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Purpose of Organization

This Organization was established for charitable and educational purposes for the benefit of James A. Rhodes State College and its students, by receiving, holding, investing, and administering property and making expenditures to or for the benefit of James A. Rhodes State College and its students. Originally called Lima Technical College Development Fund, on June 24, 2002, the Development Fund officially changed its name to James A. Rhodes State College Foundation.

Method of Accounting

James A. Rhodes State College Foundation uses the accrual method of accounting for income and expense.

Federal Income Taxes

James A. Rhodes State College Foundation is a not for profit organization exempt from Federal Income Taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. It has been classified as an organization that is not a private foundation under Section 509(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code. In addition, James A. Rhodes State College Foundation qualifies for the charitable contribution deduction under Section 170(b)(1)(A).

Basis of Financial Statement Presentation

The financial statement presentation follows the recommendations of the Financial Accounting Standards Board in its Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 117, Financial Statements for Not-for-Profit Organizations. Under SFAS No. 117, the Organization is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to the following three classes of net assets:

Unrestricted – Net assets are under the discretionary control of the Board of Directors and include amounts designated by the Board for specified purposes.

Temporarily Restricted – Net assets are restricted by the donor for a specific purpose (generally scholarships) or use in a future time period. As restrictions are met or expire, the net assets are released from restrictions and transferred to unrestricted.

Permanently Restricted – Net assets are subject to donor-imposed restrictions that the resources be maintained permanently. The income on these net assets is generally used for scholarships.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principals generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note A - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies - (continued)

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, James A. Rhodes State College Foundation considers all highly liquid investments with an initial maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents for purposes of the statement of cash flows include checking accounts, savings accounts, money market funds, certificate of deposit, and petty cash.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The following methods and assumptions were used by James A. Rhodes State College Foundation in estimating the fair value of their financial instruments:

Cash and Cash Equivalents - The carrying amount reported in the Statement of Financial Position is fair value.

Investments - These are carried at market value. Market values are based on current quoted market prices in accordance with the Statement of Financial Standards (SFAS) No. 124.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject James A. Rhodes State College Foundation to credit risk are the investments. Investments are held in various investment groups and management has diversified these funds to minimize any potential credit risk.

Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2002, the Governmental Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 39, "Determining Whether Certain Organizations are Component Units," which provides guidance to determine whether certain organizations for which the primary government, in this case, James A. Rhodes State College, is not financially accountable should be reported as a component unit of that government based on the nature and significance of the relationship between the College and the Foundation. Generally, this statement requires reporting, as discretely presented component units, an organization that raises and holds economic resources for the benefit of the College.

The Auditor of State issued bulletin 2004-001 defining "significant" for purposes of GASB 39 as the component unit's revenues or net assets must exceed 5% of the primary government's total revenues or net assets. Based on this criterion, it was determined that the Foundation's financial information would be included as a component unit of the College in its financial statements beginning fiscal year 2005.

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS REQUIRED BY GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

Board of Directors
James A. Rhodes State College Foundation
Allen County, Ohio

We have audited the financial statements of James A. Rhodes State College Foundation (an Ohio nonprofit organization), a component unit of James A. Rhodes State College, as of and for the year ended June 30, 2006, and have issued our report thereon dated December 6, 2006. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit, we considered the Foundation's internal control over financial reporting to determine our auditing procedures in order to express our opinion on the financial statements and not to opine on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements caused by error or fraud in amounts material to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be timely detected by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider material weaknesses.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of reasonably assuring whether the Foundation's financial statements are free of material misstatement, we tested its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could directly and materially affect the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that we must report under Government Auditing Standards.

We intend this report solely for the information and use of the management, the Board of Directors, and the Auditor of State of Ohio. It is not intended for anyone other than these specified parties.
